

"Athletes of the Decade Give Hope to Haiti" Honorary host Olden Polynice

Super Bowl XLIV

Miami is Hosting 2010 Super Bowl 44

The long awaited Superbowl is among us! The Superbowl experience is a very exciting time for everyone, but unfortunately our fellow people in Haiti will not have the opportunity to engage in this experience. As we are all aware, thousands of people lost their homes and lives as a result of the 7.3 magnitude earthquake on 12 January 2010. Therefore, it only seems right to collaborate our efforts to set up events, which simultaneously allow us to enjoy the superbowl experience and help those people in Haiti who are desperately in need.

The Sports Immortals Collection provides the perfect opportunity to accomplish this goal. The amazing Sports Immortals collection of sports memorabilia has been created through the lifelong efforts of one man, Joel Platt. This Collection is referred to) by the Smithsonian Institution as "absolutely the greatest collection of all sports."

Please join us to experience visually these wonderful stories, each of which is illustrated with stunning close-up photos of hundreds of rare, valuable, one-of-a-kind artifacts from the Sports Immortals collection. In addition, by joining us, you will play a vital role in raising money for Haiti Relief Fund through the Red Cross and former Olden Polynice foundation.

Ultimately, the Sports Immortals Museum will leave you breathless, stunned, and, we hope, inspired.
